Jim:

Professor Moore consulted his magic CD-ROM of telephone numbers and found only one person with the name Herbert G. Markley, as follows:

Herbert G. Markley
139 Minnie St.
Keller, TX
Phone: (817) 431-0702

Naturally, I have no way of knowing if this is the same Herbert G. Markley who worked at Alamogordo Army Air Field in August of 1947 and who launched balloons with radar targets attached.

Professor Moore also consulted his magic CD-ROM for the telephone number for William R. Clingerman, who was the chief of the Analysis Division, Intelligence (T-2), Air Materiel Command, Wright Field, in July of 1947. By the way, if I have not furnished it before, Clingerman's service number was O-20591.

Professor Moore came up with two possibilities:

William R. Clingerman
1344 Frizzell Ln NW
Port Charlotte, FL
Phone: (813) 743-3278

William R. Clingerman
4135 Kings Hwy
Port Charlotte, FL
Phone: (813) 624-5521

Professor Moore's magic CD-ROM also came up with another possibility, but with no middle initial:

William Clingerman
636 Dawn Rd
Madison, OH
Phone: (216) 428-5256

The first two listed above strike me as the most likely candidates, however.
