SUMMARY: Nine (9) objects in five (5) separate formations were sighted 200245Z February 1955 at Pacific Beach, California (EJCC 4348). Information on this sighting contained in the original teletype report indicated that the objects observed were probably aircraft or astronomical bodies. This report is the result of a limited (telephone) investigation conducted to either verify or disprove this hypothesis. III. ## INVESTGATOR'S SUMMARY

1. A check with the Mt. Wilson Observatory (EJBE 5714) revealed that the astronomers had not reported anything unusual or similar to this sighting.

2. A check with the Norton AFB, California (EJCE 4606) Weather Station, revealed that a very slight, eight-tenths of a degree, temerature inversion existed in the area of the sighting at 200300Z February 1955, between 300 to 500 feet altitude.

3. A separate telephone interview with two (2) of the observers (See Incls 1 & 2) furnished very little additional information than was initially reported due to the observers numerous negative answers to the questions asked and their hesitancy to volunteer statements.

4. COMMENTS OF PREPARING OFFICER:

The negative results from the check with the observatory and the temperature inversion that existed being too slight to cause a possible optical phenomena, plus the information obtained through the telephone interviews indicated that the objects were probably aircraft.

Summation of telephone interview with [REDACTED], AIRPAC, U S Naval Air Station, North Island, San Diego, California (EJCC 4843).

"Each object had the same oval shape, like that of a light. The color was white with a slight blue tint. There was no streak or trail. The objects were in a 2-1-3-2-1 formation. The three (3) object formation was "V" shape. The objects were side by side in the two (2) object formations. There was a four (4) minute interval between the first and second formation and a two (2) minute interval between the other three (3) formations. The objects were first thought to be jet aircraft but this was decided against when no sound was heard and because the objects' speed seemed faster than jet aircraft could fly."

Summation of telephone interview with Cpl [REDACTED], USMC, 1st Communication Support Company, Camp Pendleton, California (EJCD 4018).

"Only the first formation of two (2) objects were observed. The objects were first thought to be falling stars. The objects were round and they were white-like lights. The objects appeared to be lights on a larger object but no outline of a larger object was observed. The objects seemed to be at an altitude between 30,000 to 50,000 feet. The objects seemed to be traveling at a speed around 1,000 miles per hour. The objects were not thought to be aircraft because of their speed, but it was felt that they could be explained by an astronomer."
