Dear Sir:

The following information concerning a reported "flying disc" is being forwarded to you for your information.

On August 8, 1949, Mr. [REDACTED], who identified himself as an announcer for radio station [REDACTED] Long Beach, California, advised that he had received a telephone call from [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] stated that he and another individual, identified only as [REDACTED], were prospecting in Death Valley approximately two or three weeks ago when they noted a large circular object crash to the ground a short distance from them. Immediately following the crash two "small men", heavily clothed, ran from the crash and disappeared over a ridge. The large circular object was inspected by [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and according to them was approximately twenty-four feet in diameter and seven feet thick.

[REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] had a scientific background, and after examining a portion of the object, declared it to be principally calcium, iridescent and radio active. The material reportedly had small green wires running throughout. [REDACTED] stated to [REDACTED] that he had a small portion of the material in his possession.

[REDACTED] was unable to furnish [REDACTED]'s address but stated that if [REDACTED] recontacts him he will endeavor to obtain same.

No action is being taken by this office and the above is for any disposition deemed appropriate by you.

Very truly yours,
