I. Description of Incident

The co-pilot of a London-to-Frankfurt commercial flight sighted a fast moving object for a 4 to 5 second period. The unknown phenomenon crossed his flight path in front of him at a 90° angle and abruptly disappeared in a downward direction. Time of sighting was 1800. The object was bright at its core with a faint tail.

II. Discussion of Incident

This is a rather incomplete report. A check was made with the Frankfurt flight service center which revealed that no aircraft were in the vicinity. These factors enter into the evaluation of this report: 1) The object arched downward and had a tail. 2) It was seen for 4 to 5 seconds. These points are characteristic of a meteor.

III. Conclusion

Probably a meteor.

UNCLASSIFIED

Mr. [REDACTED], co-pilot on British European Airways flight #492 from London to Frankfurt Rhein-Main on 6 Dec 52, reported to the Military Police customs officials at the Rhein-Main commercial Terminal the sighting of an unidentified flying object. Information [REDACTED] furnished is as follows:

a. A written statement made by source is as follows: "Sighted streak shaped object with bright lighted nose and a dim trail of light behind, crossing our track at 90° to the right. Watched it for approximately 4-5 seconds when it abruptly disappeared. There was no cloud at our height, .8 clear skys above us."

b. Sighting was made in vicinity of Bitburg, Germany (NKGE3259) at approximately 1300Z on 6 Dec 52.

c. Mr. [REDACTED] co-pilot, was apparently the only person in the a/c making an observation. He called the attention of the pilot to the object, but the object had vanished before the captain could see it. No subsequent sightings were made. Altitude of the a/c at time of observation was 5500'.
