Mr. President,

This morning at about 11.30 A.M. I gave the following information to Miss of Col. Draper's office to be transmitted to you. She said she would pass it on.

satellite appeared in the papers, I recalled this experience and suspect that what I had really seen at that time was the satellite. Perhaps your physicists can check this observation. I thought that this information might in some way be helpful.

Thanking you for your attention, I am

Most respectfully yours
